DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements between “the pistons” and “expandable portion”, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections. See MPEP § 2172.01.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 4, 16, 17, 27 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Simpson (US 6,457,532, filed 12/99).

The expandable tubular is met by tubular 480 shown in Figs 25 and 26 for example. The expansion tool is met by too 304 (Fig. 24), which comprises rollers 116 mounted on pistons 120 actuatable in radial direction by fluid pressure. The changes of fluid filled volume from a first shape to a second shape providing radial expansion force is anticipated by Fig. 3, where the changes in piston chamber volume is anticipated to provide expansion force to the rollers. The claimed elliptical members or expandable disc is anticipated by rollers 902 of Fig. 30 and disc shaped rollers are anticipated by Figs 13b, where disc rollers are anticipated to create grooves 204. The stepped profile mandrel in Fig. 27 having rollers 612 and 616 creating stepped profile in adjacent stages at an incremental diameter changes depending on the direction of the roller movement. More specifically, the language "preceding stage" fails to positively distinguish from Fig. 27, for lacking a specific directional orientation.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5-8, and 18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 9-11, 13, 18-20, 23, 24, 31, 32, 34, 35 are allowed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
